be awarded to someone else. Sweepstakes rules on back of Prize Claim Form.

Signed: Charles Vaughn Prince, Awards Committee

IMPORTANT: This $25,000.00 Sweepstakes is being conducted to publicize the new Carter & Van Peel Collection of Men's and Ladies' fashion rings and watches. This and other publicity campaigns advertised on national television and in The New York Times, TV Guide and other leading magazines have already resulted in the sale of Carter & Van Peel jewelry to more than 1 million people... though not all of them are winners of a valuable Sweepstakes prize. To purchase your Carter & Van Peel rings and watches in this publicity campaign, make your selection from the enclosed color brochure. Then complete and mail your Prize Claim Form no later than Midnight, Nov. 25, 1984. Any rings or watches you order will be shipped together with the Sweepstakes prize you have won. Once again, congratulations—and remember to mail your Prize Claim Form promptly.

Retained 10/12/84

once again I have won a "fabulous" prize from these people. I return all the paper every time -- maybe this time I will win the $25,000 cash
and not another
1-carat black star
of India.

3PM - Lake Lodge
lecture on Carbondale History. a very sleepy crowd. Marge was not there &
that annoyed me because I had to set up the screen & microphones & no one was there to assist me.

6PM - cooked a sumptuous dinner for myself - Chicken & rice. Not long after for the evening -- JVP & Elaine knocked on the door.
I was pleased to see them. Elaine brought a bottle of Mondavi and we three drank that. We sat at the large table in the main hall. Men came another knocking at my Chamber door: Rev. Bissel and two deacons. They came in and I made introductions. I felt awkward about the wine bottle and glasses but made no excuses.
Bissel remarked: "We're here at a bad time. We'll talk some other time. They didn't say why they were here. I shall go over on Friday morning & see
